NOTABLES OF VALLEY OF BRIDGEPORT, LAFAYETTE CONSISTORY

A series of articles reviewing the accomplishments of the Valley's members in various facets of life in bygone eras ~ Claudia Farkas

Captains of Industry: The Founders, Part 1

In this second article in the series about Notable Masons who were part of the Valley of Bridgeport, Lafayette Consistory, we meet men who were Captains of Industry in the Bridgeport area, once known as “the Industrial Capital of Connecticut.”

Men of influence and renown locally and sometimes nationally, they founded their companies through their own enterprise and hard work. Some of the companies are still in operation today.

Their stories are based on information found in their archived petitions, membership cards and obituaries.

Walter Matthew Bangs (1867-1927) started working for hardware merchants in Massachusetts in 1884. He was transferred to the company's Bridgeport branch and four years later partnered with W.W. Chapman, buying out and renaming the branch's business Chapman & Bangs. Chapman retired and was succeeded by Murray Chapin and the business became Chapin & Bangs, a structural steel supplier still in operation in Bridgeport. Six months after completing the 18th Degree, Walter M. Bangs died.

Henry Ogden Canfield (1847-1910) began the H.O. Canfield Company in Bridgeport in 1904, manufacturing rubber products for a variety of industrial markets. Following Henry Ogden's death in 1910, son Albert Homer Canfield (1875-1939), who was also a member of Lafayette Consistory and a 32nd Degree Mason, took over the active administration of the business. H.O. Canfield was Commander-In-Chief of Lafayette Consistory from 1904-1910, a 33rd Degree Mason and an Active of the Supreme Council for Connecticut.

George Huntington Nichols Johnson (1844-1928) was a partner in the Bridgeport carriage and coach firm Hincks and Johnson, established in 1879. The firm manufactured heavy carriages and wooden automobile bodies for early locomobiles. He was a descendant of the old Nicholls family which went back six generations in Bridgeport, and which at one time owned the entire site of the City of Bridgeport. George H.N. Johnson was a 33rd Degree Mason.

Jeremiah Grant Kingsbury (1865- ?) was an engineer that had been employed in the New Jersey laboratories of Thomas Edison, developing machines and manufacturing methods used to produce Edison's products. He established The Grant Manufacturing and Machine Company in Bridgeport in 1901. Initially the business serviced and built bicycle parts and later supplied car builders with specialized machines and tools. He became one of the top ten steam engine builders and invented the first automobile tire valve and the spark plug. The company still operates as part of Bridgeport's Grant Riveters, supplying parts for older machines that are still in use. Kingsbury received his 32nd Degree in Lafayette Consistory in 1911.

Frank Louis Lindstrom (1881-1952). Born in Sweden, he was known as “The Henry Ford of the Toy World”. He worked as a toolmaker for different factories before founding the Lindstrom Tool, Die and Gauge Works in Bridgeport in 1914. Following WWI, Lindstrom became one of the world's foremost manufacturers of mechanical toys and games, founding Lindstrom Tool and Toy Co in 1918. With the start of WWII, the factory again geared up for war production. His company was sold in 1946. Lindstrom became a 32nd Degree Mason in Lafayette Consistory in 1923.

This “Notables” page will continue to feature successful members of the Consistory in different fields over the years

ILL. DAVID L. SHARKIS ~

A POWERHOUSE AT THE CHILDREN'S DYSLEXIA CENTERS, INC.!

In 2002, some 17 years ago, Illustrious Brother David and his lady Cheryl undertook the organization and management of the Children's Dyslexia Center in Waterbury. Under their mindful management, some 270+ children from the State of Connecticut have seen their reading proficiency dramatically improve, with some going on to notable successes in their later life.

In the past year David oversaw the implementation of two satellite locations outside of Waterbury, one in Bridgeport and the other soon to open in Farmington. The need for such education was underscored in Bridgeport in January, with an outpouring of excitement within the community as Town and State leaders came to attend and celebrate the opening of the first satellite.

So, it was not surprising that when the Directorship of the entire organization became vacant David was seen as a prime candidate to step up and guide it. His proven and extensive boots-on-the-ground experience and creativity made him a shoo-in, so to speak.

As Director, his new duties are extensive – initiating, planning, managing and evaluating all the Centers' programs throughout the Northern Masonic Jurisdiction. He will serve as Ex-Officio member of all administrative committees of Children's Dyslexia Centers, Inc. and, as an advisor to the President and the Boards of Directors. His responsibilities encompass the leadership of all special project teams, as well as working in tandem with the Director of Development to cultivate planned and other gifts to the Centers. The scope of his duties is immense and include, but are not limited to, maintaining the organization's Policies and Procedures, proposing changes thereto, as well as monitoring any breaches thereof. In conjunction with the Accounting Manager he prepares annual budgets and reviews the budgets of each of the local centers. His duties further extend to oversight of contractual matters for services and leases, managing insurance matters, and oversight of local fundraising activities and directing the staff at Headquarters.

Mind you, ever the hands-on guy, he also recently power washed the Waterbury Center so that he could re-stain the back porch. Clearly David's heart is never too far from home!

CONSISTORY MEMBERS ENJOYED "NEWSIES"

The Consistory attended a performance of "Newsies" at the Westchester Dinner Theater. The high energy dance program depicted events which were inspired by the 1899 New York City Newspaper Boys' strike. Our next Musical number will be "An American in Paris" later in the fall (check out the Family Life calendar for upcoming events).

The Eighty-four Princes of the Royal Secret who passed away from April 1, 2017, through April 1, 2019, were honored in a moving roll call with an inspiring eulogy delivered by Very Rev. Bro. Joseph Krusienki.

HOSPITALER'S CORNER

Your gifts to the Hospitaler Fund assist David in helping out local Brothers who are members of the Consistory. Unfortunately, there never has been a greater need. If you have experienced good fortune in the past year, why not pass a portion of it forward to help a Brother in need. Many are struggling with age-related debilities, as well as misfortunes of every kind.

Review of Blue Lodge Symbolism ~ Entered Apprentice Basics Part 1 The Hoodwink, Cabletow and the Lodge Room John A. Amarilios MSA, 32°

BROTHERS REMEMBER

Whether traveling from in or out of the state it is easy to get to the Stratford Leo H. Lohrman, II, Scottish Rite Theatre via Metro North. Our Theatre is located right next door to the Stratford Train Station. Avoid I-95 traffic and parking concerns. Consult the Metro North Train Schedule at: <http://www.mta.info/schedules>.

The most well-known definition of Freemasonry defines the Institution as a “beautiful system of Morality veiled in Allegory and illustrated by Symbols”. As we progress through the three Blue Lodge Degrees, we are gifted with additional allegory and symbolism. Our thirst for more information leads us to the Scottish Rite. It is perhaps best to pause a moment and review what was gifted to us in the Blue Lodge, since there is nothing more conducive to absorbing conceptual matters and memory work than repetition.

The Candidate who decides to take on the path of Masonic Initiation is initially invested with a Hoodwink. This denies the Candidate one of his critical senses - that of light. In hindsight we can see that the purpose of the Hoodwink is to accentuate the fact that we are very reliant on our senses and that we start our pathwork in material darkness – and that the work involves slow and apprehensive motion. We don’t know where we really are or how we started but we eventually find that we move from darkness to light.

The second accoutrement that the Candidate finds imposed upon him is the Cabletow. The Cabletow restricts the Candidate’s movement, and in effect serves as a visible pledge by the Candidate to remain firm with fidelity to those who now are instructing and guiding him on his path to Masonic enlightenment.

The Lodge Room itself becomes symbolic of the potential of a new enlightened world in which the Candidate will soon exist. If he takes his work seriously, and begins seeking and demanding perfection of himself, he will eventually effectuate a regeneration of his slumbering inborn master. The Lodge extends in all four earthly directions, East, West, North and South and extends up to the Heavens, that blue painted canopy which is found in most of our Lodges. If we can rise above the self-wrought travails of Humanity’s Masses, we can attain perfect Peace here.

Deity has created a perfect environment for Man to work his redemption and there is no waste on this plane of existence. The process of regeneration must take place in the midst of the havoc, tragedy and mindlessness which preoccupies the denizens of this very same place. We must try to actively seek and attempt to attain perfection amid all the dissonance which exists all around us. Hiding up top a mountain, or in a protective cloister, does not subject us to the all-important challenges which we need to learn to overcome by our own volition. Discernment is a faculty of the Master within and something we cultivate and improve upon as we work our way to a successful initiation. Developing an innate sense of which fork in the road to take is what the invisible Cabletow tries to impart on each devoted Brother. Once a Brother, the unseen Cabletow extends globally, as our Fraternity’s egregore lies in all parts of the world. Upon reaching such trying crossroads, the reflective Mason will always have the option to access the thought forms and advice of his predecessors, if he will only allow it to happen.

We will press on with the Great Light, Square, Level, Plumb and Compasses in our next missive!
